

ISU Women's, Gender, and Sexuality Studies Program

WGSS GRADUATE CERTIFICATE - PLAN OF STUDY Information Worksheet

The purpose of this worksheet is to assist graduate students pursuing a certificate in WGSS in planning and tracking their coursework. Students must complete one core course: WGS 490 or ENG 460. Students must also complete three elective courses from those listed on the back of this page.

CORE COURSE	Semester Planned	Semester Completed	Notes	ELECTIVE COURSES	Semester Planned	Semester Completed
WGS 490 or ENG 460			WGS 490 is typically offered each semester. ENG 460 is typically offered at least once a year; semesters vary.	1.
				2.
				3.

Please note that additional elective courses may be offered in any given semester. To see current course offerings, please visit: <https://illinoisstate.edu/catalog/graduate/womens-gender-sexuality-studies/>

Please note that WGSS does not control the scheduling of some classes associated with the certificate because they are taught by faculty from other departments. We say typically offered based on past experience. This does not predict future course offerings or schedules. Please plan accordingly by building flexibility into your plan. The WGSS academic advisor is happy to help you construct your plan of study. WGSAdvisor@IllinoisState.edu or 309.438.3286.

Required Courses

WGS 490: Feminist Theories and Methodological Issues

An interdisciplinary study of methods, theories, analyses, and critiques by feminist scholars to study feminist issues within and across a range of traditional disciplines. -or-

ENG 460: Feminist Literary Theories

Advanced overview of interdisciplinary feminist paradigms emphasizing English studies and literature, theory, and social discourse.

Electives

ART 411a04: Critical Theory: Writing with Images

Seminar course examining artists who make work at the intersections of text and textile focusing on modern and contemporary artists.

ART 415a01: Women in the Arts 1400-1750

This course will examine the ways in which women negotiated complex social roles and gender norms through the study of the art, architecture and visual culture of Early Modern Europe.

CJS 339: Women in Criminal Justice

Historical and theoretical perspectives and contemporary trends concerning women and crime, and processing of women by the criminal justice system.

CJS 342: Victimology

An examination of the victim's role in the criminal event, the process of victimization, patterns, trends, theories and victim/offender relationships.

EAF 413: Critical Social Theory & Resistant Knowledge Practices

This course covers foundational and contemporary social theory with an eye towards using these tools of analysis within the realm of education.

EAF 463: College Students & Their Cultures

Overview of different campus cultures from a developmental, historical, and philosophical perspective, and the types of students within them.

ENG 360: Studies in Women's Writing

Studies in and theories of women's writing. May repeat if content differs; maximum of 6 hours.

ENG 460: Feminist Literary Theories

Advanced overview of interdisciplinary feminist paradigms, emphasizing English studies and literature, theory, and social discourse. An option only if not chosen to complete requirement.

ENG 462: Queer Theories and Cultures

Study of queer theories and literatures as they relate to racialization, ethnicity, gender, class, ability, and sexuality.

ENG 351: Digital Rhetorics

Study of theory and research in digital rhetorics as a basis for the production of multimodal, web-based texts.

HIS 330: The Family in History

History of the family in Europe and America, viewing the changes from idealist, economic determinist, family systems, and psychoanalytic perspectives.

HIS 350: Women & Sexuality in Ancient Greece & Rome

An exploration of sources, methodologies, and debates concerning women, gender and sexuality in ancient Greece and Rome.

MUS 456a02: Women in Music

This course investigates and celebrates the musical activities of women.

POL 437: Gay & Lesbian Politics and Theory

Explores LGBT (lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender) political movements in historical context and with reference to claims for citizenship.

POL 438: Gender and Political Theory

Examination of how gender shapes and is shaped by public policy formulation and implementation in different political and state contexts.

PSY 305: Psychology of Women

Psychological research to place in scientific perspective the etiology and behavioral consequences of female and male oriented attitudes.

SOC 341: Sociology of Gender

Explores the concepts, theories, and methods sociologists utilize to explain gendered differences in social relations and life changes. Examines individual, interactional, institutional, and social change processes.

SOC 442: Sociology of the Body

Explores the concepts, theories, and methods sociologists utilize to study the body in social life. Special emphasis on non-normative bodies.

SOC 366: Contemporary Social Movements

Theories, methods, and research on social movements in the U.S. and on transnational social movements, including women's movements.

SOC 468: Chicana and Latina/x Feminisms

This class examines the historical conditions and current issues within the Chicana/Latina/x feminisms through an examination of the foundational writings of Chicana/Latina/x authors.

SWK 444: Promoting Social Justice with Diverse Populations

Examines the impact of discrimination and oppression on development and delivery of social work services to diverse populations.

WGS 491: Women's, Gender, & Sexuality Studies Seminar

A critical examination of selected topics in women's and gender studies. May be repeated if topic is different; maximum of 6 hours.

WGS 492: Queer and Transgender Theory

Research in the interdisciplinary field of LGBT/Queer Studies, emphasizing how queer theory informs a variety of academic disciplines and discourses.

WGS 400: Independent Research in Women's, Gender, & Sexuality Studies

Research paper or supervised readings on a topic relevant to women's, gender, and sexuality studies. May be repeated for credit if topic is different. A maximum of 9 hours total credits from the course group 400/498 may count toward a master's degree. Within that 9 hours no more than 6 can come from 400.

WGS 490: Feminist Theories and Methodological Issues

An interdisciplinary study of methods, theories, analyses, and critiques by feminist scholars to study feminist issues within and across a range of traditional disciplines. An option only if not chosen to complete requirement.

WGS 498: Professional Practice: Internship in Women's, Gender, & Sexuality Studies

Supervised work experience in local, state, national, or international businesses, agencies, institutions, or organizations—including teaching internships—focusing on women's and gender issues. A maximum of 9 total credit hours from the course group 400/498 may count toward a master's degree. Within that 9 hours, 498 is further limited to not more than 20% of the total hours required for the degree.

Note: Check the graduate catalog for prerequisite courses. Your plan of study must be arranged with the WGSS Program advisor. With the approval of the director and WGSS advisor, courses with over 50% gender content can be counted toward the certificate. To make an advising appointment, email the WGSS advisor at WGSAdvisor@IllinoisState.edu or call the program office directly at (309) 438-2947.